

Introduction

Mission Wealth Management, L.P. (MWM), acting as a fiduciary, is an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Our firm operates as a “Wealth Manager,” meaning that we offer an enhanced level of service and expertise beyond investments. All client assets are segregated and held in their individual accounts at the custodian. We do NOT have custody of assets. MWM does not have any proprietary products. MWM is not a broker or broker dealer, we are an advisory firm. Different business models exist in the industry and we pride ourselves on being a fiduciary and client centric. There are free and simple tools available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

In the simplest of terms, as an advisor, we do not create any products or have any financial interest in the investments we recommend with the custodians we use to hold assets for our clients (Fidelity, Charles Schwab, TD Ameritrade). As a fiduciary, we have a responsibility to put the interests of our clients ahead of our own.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We are an investment adviser that offers financial services. We meet with our clients to understand their current situation, financial resources, goals, and risk tolerance to name a few. Based on what we learn, we'll recommend a portfolio of investments that is monitored at least quarterly and if necessary, rebalanced to meet your changing needs, stated goals and objectives. We'll offer you advice on a regular basis and contact you at least annually to discuss your portfolio.

Financial Planning & Consulting is included in our Investment Management service for no additional fee.

You can select in our agreement whether we are allowed to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you in advance (“discretion”) or only buy and sell investments in your account after receiving your permission (“non-discretion”). If you select non-discretion, you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments. Any limitations will be described in the signed New Account Form (NAF). We will have discretion or non-discretion until the advisory agreement is terminated by you or our firm.

We do not restrict our advice to limited types of products or investments.

Our firm requires a minimum account balance of $1,000,000 to open and maintain an account for our Investment Management service, which may be waived.

Additional information about our services is located in Item 4 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/113057> or <https://missionwealth.com/adv-2-privacy-policy/>.

What fees will I pay?

You will be charged an ongoing quarterly fee based on the value of the investments in your account. Our fee schedule ranges from 1.00% to 0.40% depending on the value of the investments in your account. Since our fees are based on a percentage of assets in your advisory account, we have an incentive for your accounts to grow as well as our relationship. We have three service model tiers with larger relationships eligible for enhanced offerings. Our fees and services vary and are negotiable. The amount you pay will depend, for example, on the services you receive and the amount of assets in your account. Our firm's fees will be automatically deducted from your advisory account. In rare cases, our firm will agree to send you invoices rather than automatic deduction.

The custodian that holds your assets may charge transaction fees when we buy or sell an investment. The custodian's costs are in addition to our fees and we do not participate in those charges. We have an incentive to reduce unnecessary fees, charges and expenses so that your account has the highest value possible.

You may also pay fees imposed by an underlying investment such as a mutual fund, index fund, exchange traded fund (ETF), etc. We generally never purchase annuity contracts but if we do, review and discuss fees.

You will pay for our service model whether or not you make or lose money. When accounts go down in value, we make less and earn more when you do better. Please understand the fees you are paying.

Additional information about our fees is located in Item 5 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/113057>.

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. This is the definition of being a “fiduciary.” However, no business model is conflict free but we try to limit them as much as possible. For example, we do not custody assets, thus we do not have any incentive to generate trading costs or commissions. However, we do have an incentive to use a custodian that referred business to us. We do not have any proprietary products, thus we do not have a financial interest in any investment.

We do NOT receive third party payments and we do NOT have any revenue sharing agreements with any investment firms. We do NOT participate in principal trading.

Our firm maintains a non-variable insurance license to assist our clients in a limited scope with long term care or life insurance needs. If insurance is needed, MWM does not charge a planning fee for that work as commissions cover time and materials.

One of our financial professionals is a registered representative of an unaffiliated broker-dealer. He maintains this relationship to accommodate legacy contracts of clients or certain investments that can't be held at our preferred custodians. If this relationship pertains to you, it is a separate and distinct engagement outside of MWM. That would be a different relationship and you should refer to that separate service and fee outline provided by the broker-dealer.

Additional information about our conflicts of interest is located in Item 10 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/113057>.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated on a salary and bonus system. They do not earn commissions. Their incentive structure is based upon education levels, clients served, new business and client retention.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No, our firm and financial professionals do not have any legal or disciplinary history to disclose. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and our financial professionals.

Questions to Ask Us:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do those qualifications mean?
- Help me understand how these fees and costs may affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs and how much will be invested for me?
- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?
- As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
- Who is my primary contact person?
- Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer?
- Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?
